JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

Dear Alumni & Friends:

Travel with us on this custom-designed, nine-night journey of a lifetime into the natural wonder that is Tanzania. Behold the timeless phenomenon of the Great Migration by land and air—the most comprehensive and best way to experience one of Earth’s most incredible natural spectacles, when over one million wildebeest, 500,000 zebra and vast herds of Thomson’s gazelle and Cape buffalo instinctively gather and migrate on the plains of the Serengeti, land that also is home to magnificent carnivores—the lion, cheetah and leopard.

Visit three of Tanzania’s finest game parks—Serengeti, Lake Manyara and Tarangire—including three nights in the heart of the Serengeti. Begin your days at first light with an early morning game drive, when nocturnal animals conclude their foraging and the grazers of the plains begin their day. Depart on a second game drive as daylight gives way to dusk and the remarkable glow of the setting sun illuminates the African wilderness. By way of a four-wheel drive land cruiser, descend into the impressive 12-mile-wide Ngorongoro Crater, a UNESCO World Heritage designated Conservation Area enclosed within the imposing 2000-foot-high walls of a prehistoric caldera. A remarkable sanctuary for wildlife, the crater is home to the black rhinoceros, eland, gazelle, lion and over 500 species of birds. Discover the “cradle of mankind” at Oldupai Gorge, one of the most important paleoanthropological sites in the world. Visit a typical Maasai village, where Maasai dressed in colorful traditional clothing are eager to share their culture, and observe firsthand Tanzania’s educational system during a stop at the Kibaoni Primary School.

Join an expert safari guide on game drives who will offer insight into Tanzania’s ecosystem as you follow the habitual patterns of the “Big Five”—African elephant, Cape buffalo, leopard, lion and rhinoceros. In addition to the daily game drives, fly by chartered private aircraft, an exceptional perspective from which to view the sweeping African landscape and stay in deluxe, award-winning Serena Lodges, each ideally located for optimal wildlife observation.

You don’t want to miss this once-in-a-lifetime safari adventure! I encourage you to book now as this popular program has sold very quickly in the past.

NATURE'S PAGEANT ON THE SERENGETI PLAINS

A UNESCO World Heritage Site

Tanzania's Serengeti—the “endless plains” of the Maasai, whose herdsmen and warriors have roamed its trackless grasslands for centuries—inextricably links nature and culture, and forms the heart of a unique ecosystem that encompasses the neighboring Ngorongoro Conservation Area and Kenya's Maasai Mara National Reserve.

Within its 5400 square miles, the Serengeti's abundant diversity of natural habitats—short- and tall-grass savannas, acacia woodlands, meandering rivers and rich wetlands—provide a sanctuary for the greatest variety and number of game animals on Earth.

The key to the vitality of the Serengeti lies in the seasonal migrations of its wildlife in a rhythmic cycle triggered by mvua ndefu (long rains) and mvua fupi (short rains). By November of each year, the Serengeti's savannas have been replenished with a fresh growth of succulent grasses, herbs and shrub foliage. Splinter herds of wildebeest, zebra, gazelle and other grazing animals begin yet another southerly 250-mile-long trek from the Maasai Mara to the Serengeti, returning just in time for the January through March calving season, the prime time to view the herds in Tanzania. The cycle reverses in May, at the end of the mating season, as a new generation of these incredible herds trek north, repeating nature's pageant of migration and birth.

Thomson's gazelles use their high speed—they can sprint up to 60 miles per hour—to outrun predators.

the wellspring of our DNA. Here, Louis and Mary Leakey's paleoanthropological work was made famous in 1959, when Mary unearthed the skull of Paranthropus boisei, an early hominin that proved invaluable to the study of human evolution. A year later, the Leakey family also discovered a 1.8-million-year-old Homo habilis. Meet the local curator for a discussion.

Day 7

After breakfast, board a four-wheel drive land cruiser and descend 2000 feet to the floor of Cape buffalo, one of Africa's "Big Five," thrive in most grassland habitats within 12 miles of a watering hole.

Ngorongoro Crater, a remarkable sanctuary for hundreds of mammal and bird species. Born from the collapse of a massive volcano over two million years ago, the 12-mile-wide natural caldera shelters a perennial migration of incredible wildlife in diverse habitats: savannas, forests, marshlands, salt pans and a freshwater lake. With bountiful grass and a permanent water supply, the crater floor supports herds of grazing animals that, in turn, attract lion, leopard and cheetah.

Observe zebra, wildebeest, gazelle, Cape buffalo and elephant; watch for the critically endangered black rhinoceros; and look for hippopotamus seeking refuge from the midday sun in the Ngoitokitok Springs. Spot numerous species of birds that find a home in the crater, including ostrich, crowned crane, flamingo and other waders. After a morning of game tracking, stop for a picnic lunch amid the distinct flora and fauna of this rare and enthralling ecosystem.

Later, survey the crater and its ample wildlife from your lodge's viewing terrace, directly on the crater's rim.
