HERE MUST BE A COMMUNITY OF SCHOLARS WHO, IN AN ENVIRONMENT OF COURAGEOUS FREEDOM, ARE CONSTANTLY PUSHING BACK THE DARK WALLS OF THE UNKNOWN . . .

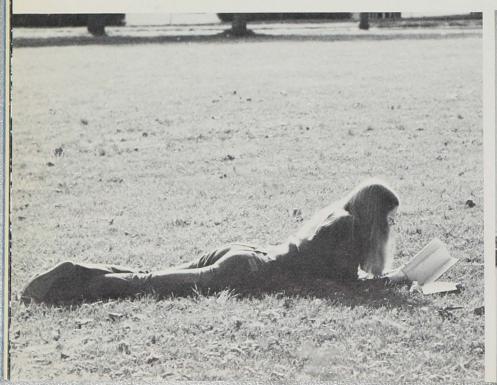

HERE MUST BE STUDENTS, BOTH GRADUATE AND UNDERGRADUATE, WHO, INSPIRED BY ASSOCIATION WITH EMINENT MINDS, STRIVE TO BECOME EXTRADORDINARY HUMANISTS, EXTRAORDINARY SCIENTISTS, EXTRAORDINARY DOCTORS AND ENGINEERS AND SOCIAL SCIENTISTS:

LEADERS IN WHATEVER THEY DO.

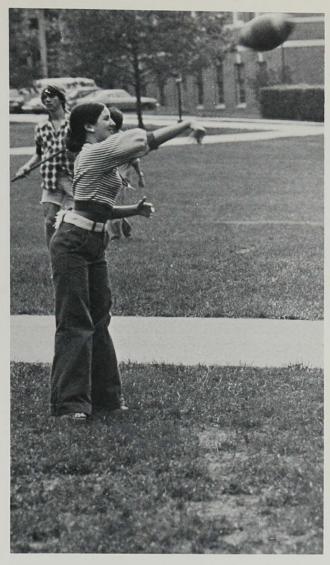

Milton Stover Eisenhower Inaugural Address, Feb. 22, 1957

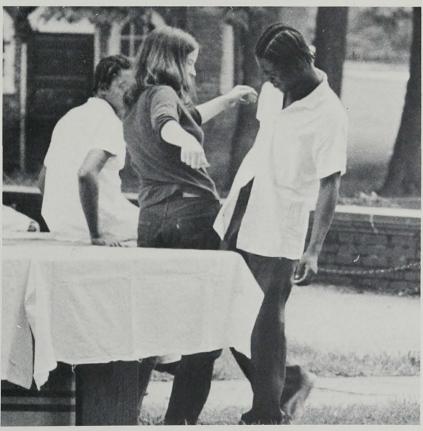

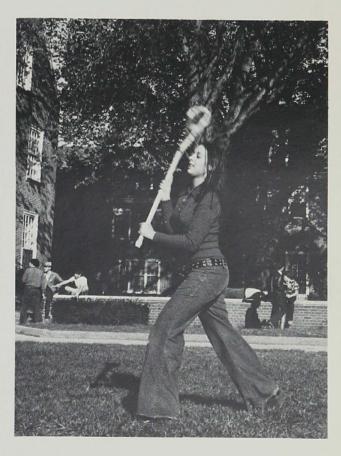

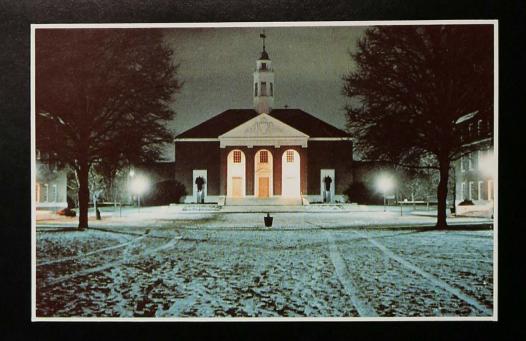

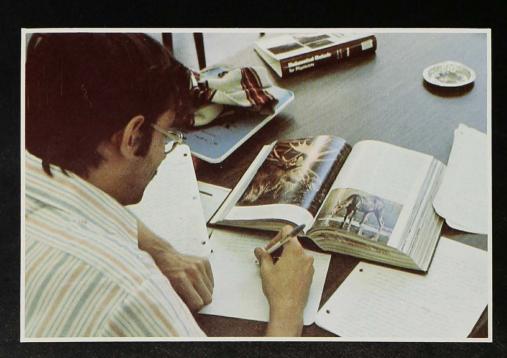

Every achievement is a result of a concentrated will; not thinking about oneself, not thinking about one's neighbors, but living with eyes focused only on that goal.

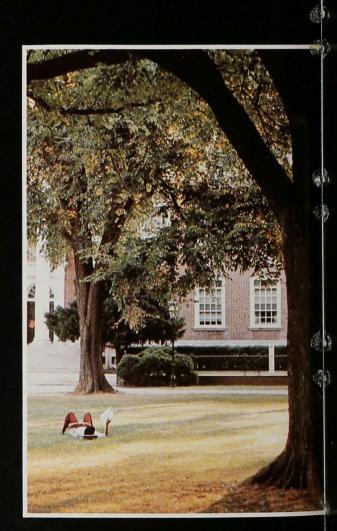

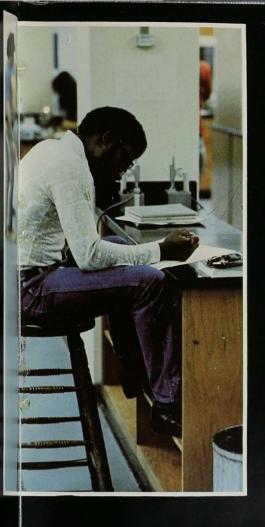

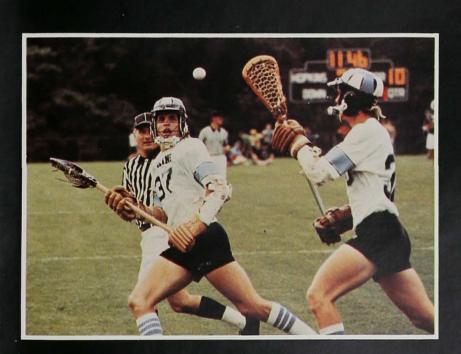

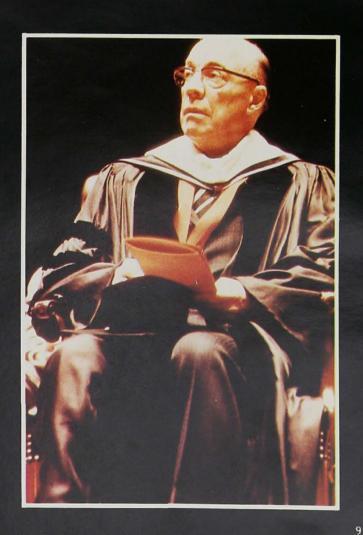

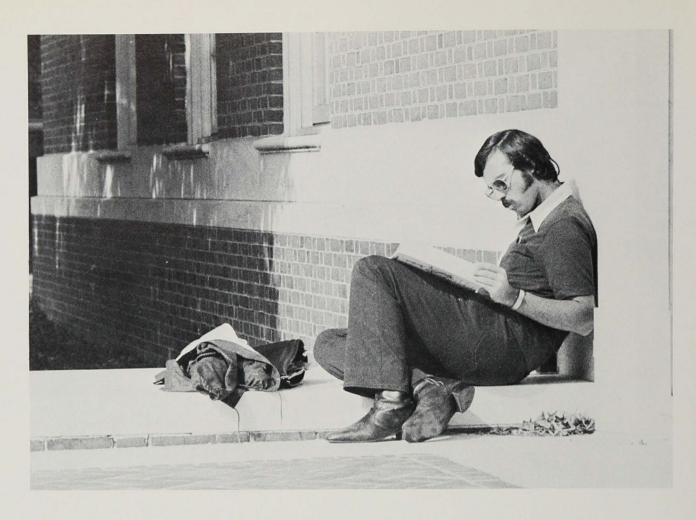

There is education in books...

But education in life also . . .

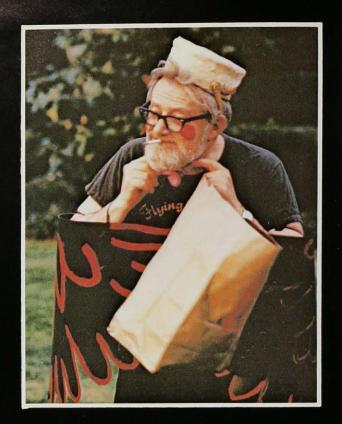

education in study, but education even greater in the contagion of example . . . Ask any youth who has gone through a university what part of his training has counted most in later life. Almost invariable, the first place will be given, not to shreds of information, the book-learning of the schools, but to the transfigured sense of values born of companionship with loftly minds, the living and the dead.

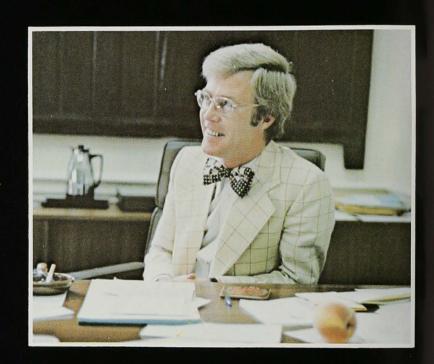

— Benjamin Cardozo

CAMPUS LIFE

Orientation Week

Orientation 1974, chaired by Sue Matson, featured many activities to help freshmen adjust to the Hopkins way of life. From outside concerts to mixers, from square dances to a bus ride tour of Baltimore proper, the freshmen were bombarded with things to do and places to go leaving them no time to feel homesick for girlfriends and boyfriends. Orientation week (September 2-8) ended with more than 600 freshmen and transfer students leaving the seven days of parties, picnics, and mixers behind them and starting classes for the first time here at the Johns Hopkins University.

Orientation 1974

What are dances for? For making friends; for getting closer to friends; for getting a free drink, or for the band, for making a little extra cash; but most of all, what is a dance for? A dance is for everyone to enjoy, for whatever their reason.

Ocean Rose Concert

Herbie Mann & The Family Of Mann

Baltimore City Fair

The Fifth Annual Baltimore City Fair took place at the Inner Harbor area. All Johns Hopkins Institutions participated in the fair and the theme of "water" was used. The exhibit featured a 40 foot, 5000 gallon tank truck filled with water with six drinking fountains, as well as photos, slides, and a film.

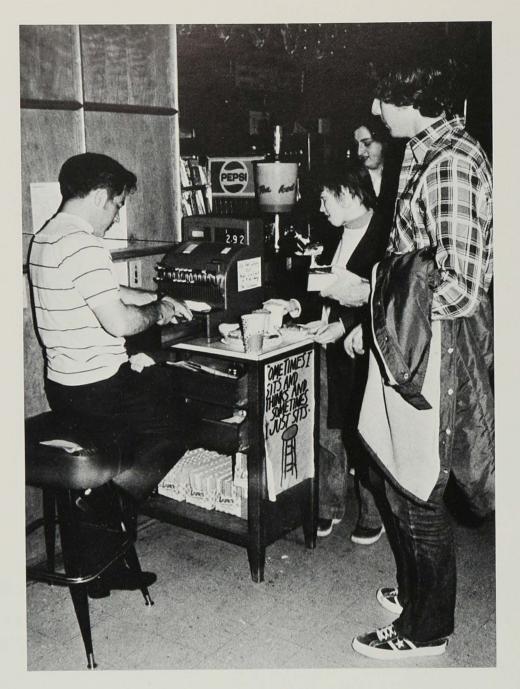

The City Fair had over 150 exhibits, including 62 participating neighborhoods, 93 local non-profit institutions, and about 45 rides. In addition to the exhibits there was much entertainment at the fair, including skydiving, fireworks, the New Baltimore Minstrels, a performance by Miss Black America, and many other groups.

Munching At The Hop

After many years of work and thousands of dollars the Hopkins Student Union was finally completed and dedicated. After many short speeches by the presidents of the university and the student council, and others, this dedication service broke up into small conversation groups. Altogether, the dedication was a fine tribute to our own Glass Pavilion.

"Recent studies of homosexuals in homophile organizations-not in therapy—confirm that gay men and women are not different psychologically from their straight counterparts." HOWARD BROWN

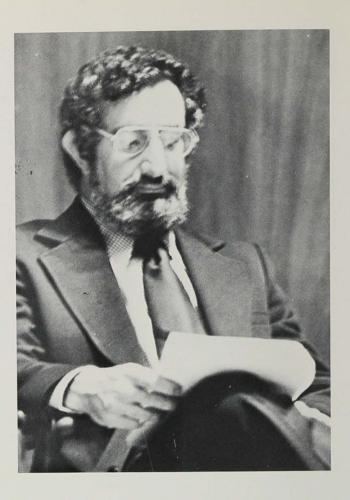

"Thus while it is possible to express ones sexuality as a man or woman in sexual activity, sexuality is expressed far more frequently as a dimension of personality during the individuals every communication with the world around him." MASTERS AND JOHNSON

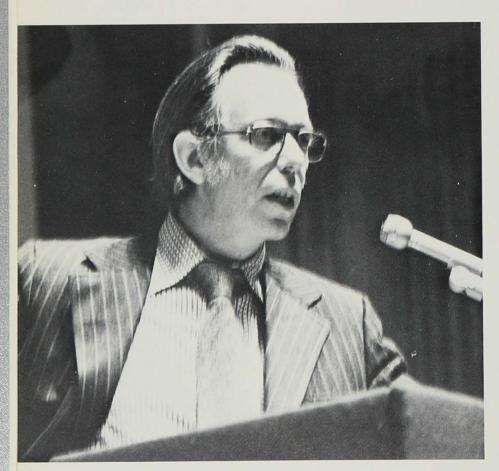

Man is bisexual in nature. It is inborn and societal-environmentally influenced, but one stream dominates. Each part of the body can be involved normally or pathologically in sexual relationships ... Perversions are latently present in everyone. LEO RANGELL

"The erotic is finally coming into its own. Hasn't the funeral been long enough?" KATE MILLETT

"This study, a reflection of the changed attitude toward sex in our society  $\dots$  could not have been done without the permissive attitude which is prevelant in our society today." NAT LEHRMAN

"It has been shown that males are more aggressive than females in all societies examined and in sub-human primates." ELEANOR MACCOBY

Symposium Speakers Attract Students

The Milton S. Eisenhower Symposium was established in 1967 by the Student Council of The Johns Hopkins University to honor Dr. Eisenhower for his many years of devoted service to the University.

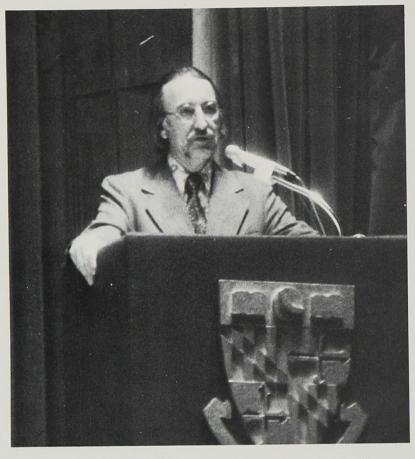

"Fulfillment of sexuality as mature man or woman must be proceeded by the fulfillment of the sexuality of the earlier phasesinfancy, early and late childhood, adolescence — each in its own phase-appropriate ways" MARY CALDERONE

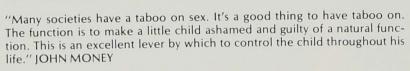

> "I should like to take this opportunity to correct what I believe to be a myth which has long been assumed to be one of those laws of nature. This is the impression generally given that the male's role as economic provider in early human as well as in later food-gathering societies was by far the most important." ASHLEY MONTAGU

MSE Symposium

"Modern art has been thought of from its inception at the beginning of the present century, as kind of a brothel for the imagination." EDWARD LUCIE-SMITH

The past few decades have brought substantial changes in both attitudes and knowledge regarding human sexuality. The 1974 Symposium presented a comprehensive examination of this from a variety of perspectives.

The Hunter

Directed And Produced By James F. Brown

Two soldiers in tattered uniforms — Civil War and more contemporary mixed garb — are seated on cots. Night has fallen while Lee (Dave Smith) worries Harry (Ira Shapiro) over sexual fantasies of his girl. A latter day hunter clad in red and white checks (Leon Epps) enters with his shotgun; a pistol packing fugitive girl (Angela Aleiss) completes the scene. Employing Theatre of the Absurd, the play makes a striking and original statement about the realities of time, love and commitment.

An Enemy Of The People By Henry Ibsen

Political unrest at tranquil Hopkins? Impossible, you say, and no doubt you would be correct, until you enter the Barnstormers' presentation of Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People". Produced and directed by junior James F. Brown, this innovative production featured fine performances by Woody Wiener as Dr. Stockmann, Bess Rodriguez as Mrs. Stockmann, Susan Kahan as Petra, John Heavey as Peter Stockmann, Alan Fink as Hovstad, David Harris as Billing, Thomas Melia as Aslaksen, Guy Noce as Captain Horster and Ron Klausner as Morten Kiil.

"An Enemy of the People" is set in a small town in Norway where the economy is based on the spa, the mineral baths. Conflicts arise when Dr. Stockmann is, at first, enthusiastically supported and his findings hailed as a godsend for the public by the local journalists. The mayor, whose main concern is to maintain the economic stability of the town wins over the journalists and suppresses the truth. The doctor persists in his fanatic drive to make known his discovery until, at the end, he realizes that the strongest man in the world is the one who stands most alone.

EPILOGUE

As seniors now, we can look back at the four years we have spent at the University and laugh at our mistakes and cry at our missed opportunities. It's not to hard to remember when we got to the dorms and Col. Serena was in charge and Prophet Foods served us their meals. September, when we were filled with Sha-Na-Na, the mixers and picnics, also heralded news from University President Eisenhower that a Student Union would be built.

Fire In The Dormitory Kitchen . . .

Provided A Study Break For Those There To Witness It.

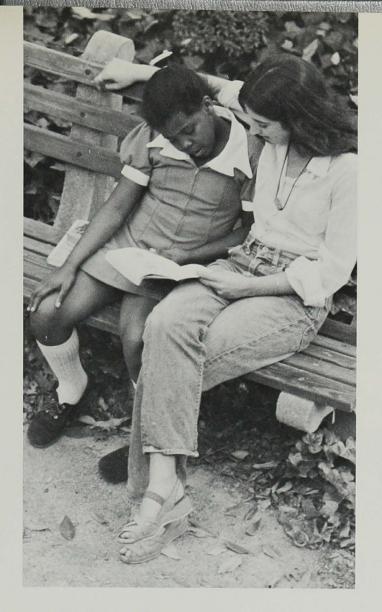

Then the MSE symposium on International Relations got usused to speeches and the ways of Hopkins. We were the privileged class in that not only were we the first class of girls, but also our football games had cheerleaders. Time passed and the spring brought our first 3400 On Stage and the "riot" food fight in the dorm cafeteria.

Sophomore year we continued the normalization of the Johns Hopkins University to increase student activities with help from Dean Robert Fitzpatrick and the Student Council President Andrew Savitz. Work on the Student Union got underway and more concerts including Country Joe McDonald was shown. The Student Council started its Film Series thanks to suggestions from our senior class president Seth Feltheimer. The MSE symposium that year was on Creativity starting off with Jean Piaget.

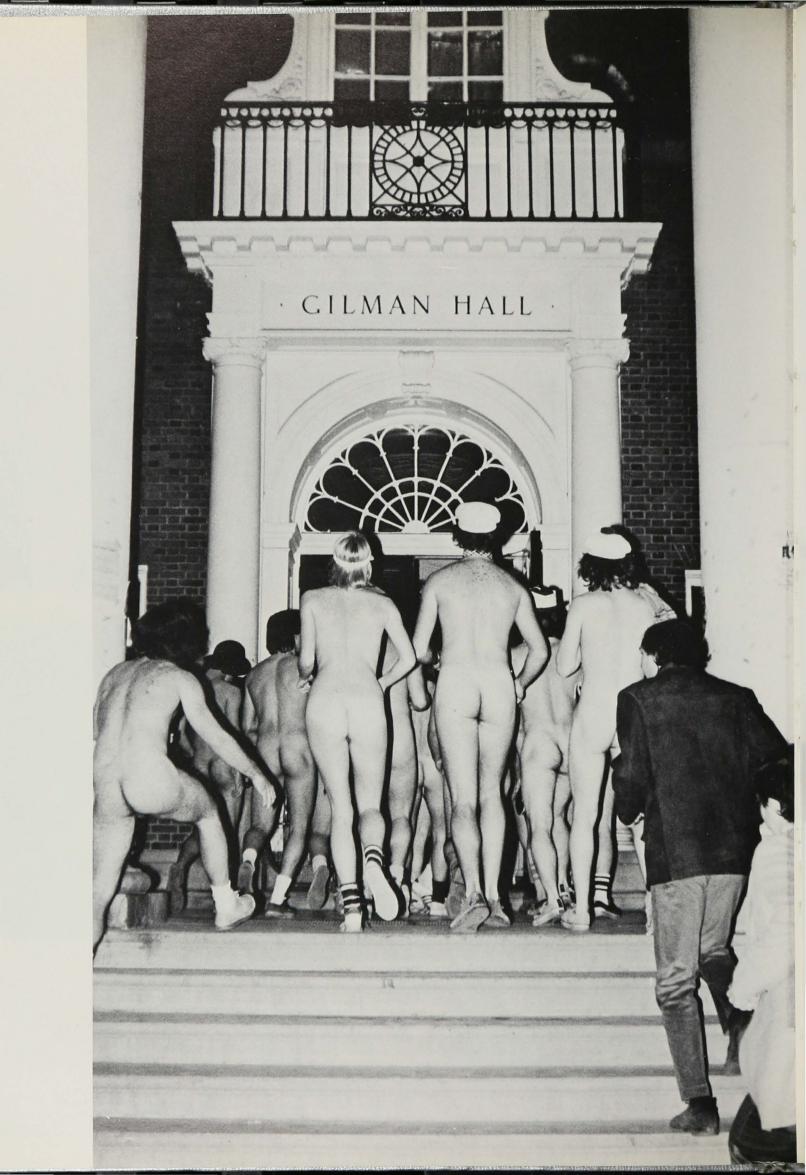

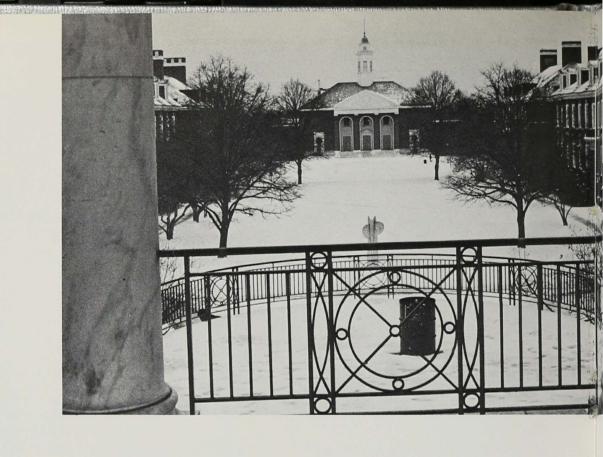

As Juniors (older and wiser with more Hopkins girls) we had our first Fall Weekend which was not very successful, but it was a start. We had two Greaser Dances, one in the fall and one in the spring, but most important our Lacrosse team won the NCAA Championship. We also had a good laugh at the Freshmen that year who burned Dr. Gryder in effigy after a hard chem test.

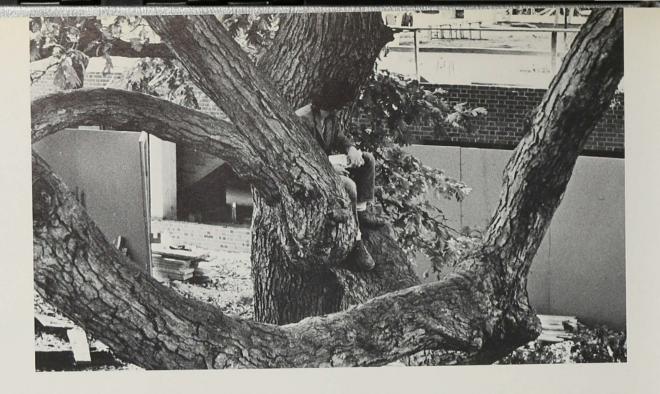

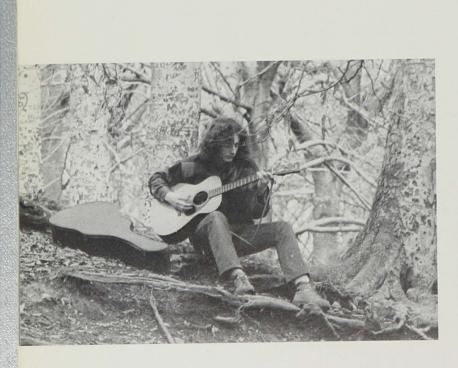

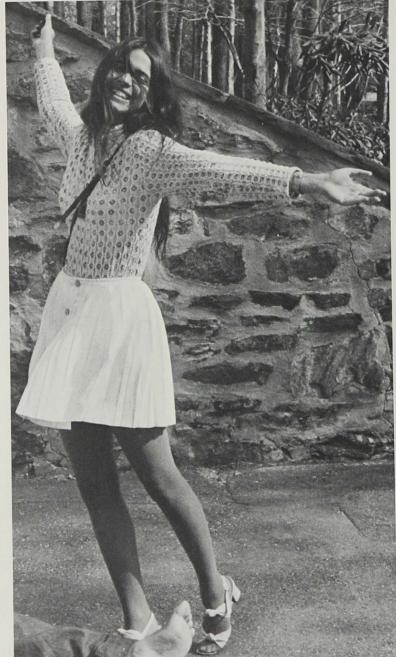

And now as seniors, the Hopkins community has changed dramatically with the opening of the new Student Union. We can remember when Levering used to be all of Dr. Chester Wickwire's territory! Now with the Glass Pavilion, the Rathskellar, the Listening and Viewing Room, darkrooms, and new practice rooms, the hall once called Levering, has transformed every Hoppie's way of life. Dean Robert Fitzpatrick left the Hopkins campus in the spring semester to assume the Presidency of the California Institute of Art. The popular Jakie Hall succeeded him as the new Dean of Students.

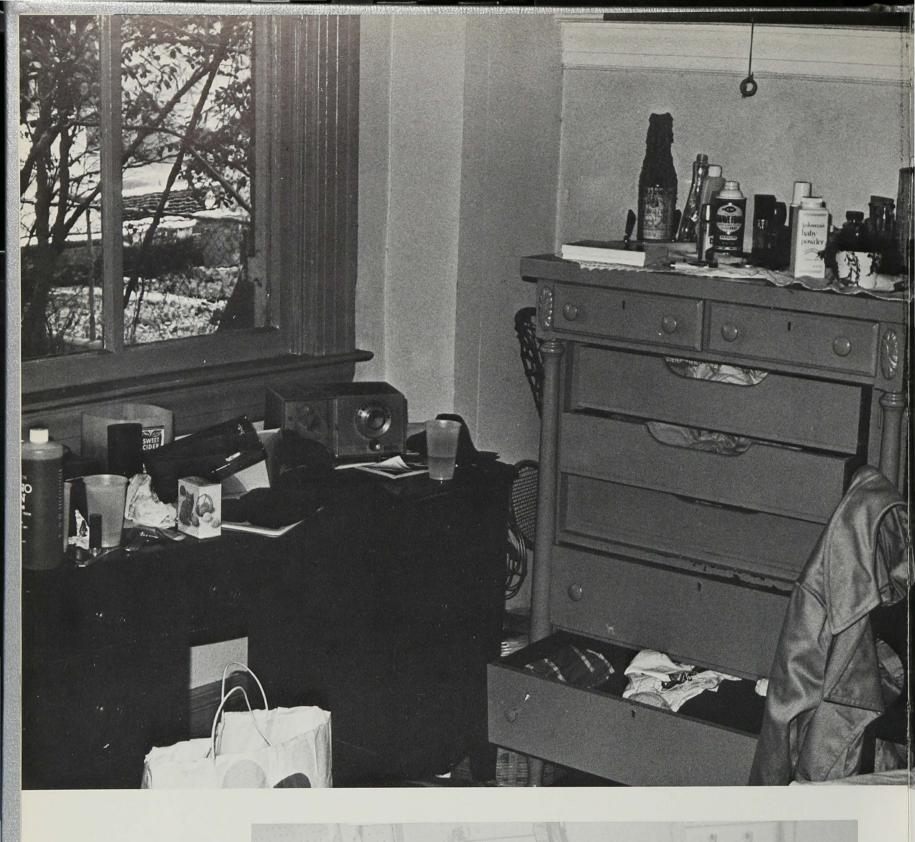

But amid all these changes there is still much that is the same. We had another MSE symposium this year: New Perspectives on Human Sexuality featuring Masters and Johnson and erotic cinema circus. The Student Council was still presided over by Andrew Savitz.

A-lúm

Short for alumnus or alumna. Rhymes with glum. Anagram is maul. Otherwise, a pretty good four-letter word. * Now that you are one, there's a lot more Johns Hopkins can do for you — a few things you can do for it. We are the link. ★ Become an active alum. Pay your dues (first year free). Drop in when you can. Keep in touch. We'll do the rest. * The Alumni Association of The Johns Hopkins University. Steinwald Alumni House, 3211 N. ### Our Group Believes That

Sports teaches everyone who is a part of it to be proud and unbending in defeat, yet humble in victory; to master themselves before they attempt to master others; to learn to laugh, but not forget how to weep; and most important, it teaches the dominance of courage over timidity.

The Staff Of The 1975 Hullabaloo Would Like To Extend Grateful Acknowledgments To:

- Mrs. Jerry La Pointe, for her expedient handling of various administrative problems;
  Mr. John Beach, our American Yearbook Representative for answering all our questions and resolving all our crises:
- . Gwen Kellam, for scheduling our room use and never making a mistake;
- ... Alan Sapakie and the Student Activities Commission for giving us their assurance of financial backing in this endeavor:
- ... The Student Council for their financial contribution to our working budget:
- ... Duplication for extremely prompt service:
- Director Robert Scott and others at the Athletic Center for their contributions of team photographs and assistance in identifying photographs before deadlines:
- ... Mark Anderson for printing pictures 24 hours a day near deadline times and Directory work:
- Segall-Majestic for printing the majority of pictures used in this book and for taking our undergraduate portraits:
- ... Patricia Strader and Dave Ross for assisting during Registration with undergraduate portraits:
- ... The Johns Hopkins Gazette for its favorable publicity:
- ... Alan Fink for his assistance in writing copy for "An Enemy of the People":
- ... Jim Brown for writing copy for "The Hunter";

And perhaps most importantly, we would like to thank those who purchased the HUL-LABALOO, advertisements within, or gave us other financial support allowing us to produce a permanent record of 1974-1975 at "The Hop".

3400 On Stage Presents Alice

The fourth annual "3400 On Stage" chaired by Bill Ferguson was enjoyed by an estimated crowd of 50,000 people attending over a three day period. Fairgoers were greeted by an extensive crafts exhibition of approximately 280 boothes containing leather objects, ceramic wares, photographs, paintings, mandolins, antique cars and even a blacksmith at work.

Despite Early Rains.

The Friday balloon ascension was followed by a torrential rain, temporarily halting activity, but by Saturday boothes were opening and the roving performance of Alice, a musical, loosely based on Lewis Carroll's, ALICE IN WONDER-LAND, was ready to begin anew. The tremendous enthusiasm and spontaneity of the actors and actresses drew large crowds as the performances traveled to various campus locations.

Other group entertainment and sponsered events were well received by the crowds. The Chaplain's Office sponsored a dog show, there was guitar playing on the steps of Gilman, a barbershop quartet in front of Shriver, an amazing magic show which teased the mind of many a child, a slalom Kayaking demonstration in the Newton H. White, Jr. Athletic Center pool and what better way to spend a Saturday afternoon than watching the varsity lacrosse team beat Brown University. The theme of the roaring 20's prevailed on Saturday night with a number of movies from that era and a "speakeasy" in the Rathskeller.

Sunday, our last day was highlighted by a vast array of antique cars ranging from a Rolls Royce Silver Cloud to a Model T Ford.

The fair ended with a blast as a terrific display of fireworks "rocked the heavens" over Homewood and students danced to the beat of Ocean Rose and Rodeo Rick.

"Anything Goes" was a dramatic re-enactment of Mr. Cole Porter's musical extravaganza as performed by the Johns Hopkins University Barnstormers. Set aboard the S.S. America as it sailed from New York to England, it was truly enjoyable play. Unfortunately, at the time of the last performance, many people had to be turned away at the door — all tickets to the play had been sold for several days. The ardent efforts of these thespians truly "drew" the audience into the atmosphere aboard the S.S. America. Empathy with the actors and actresses was so great you could almost smell the ocean air. The excellent choreography along with the proficiency and enthusiasm of the dancers added the finishing touch to a musical richly deserving of the standing ovation it received.

Commencement ceremonies under the huge tent erected on Keyser Quadrangle, May 23 began just after 9:00 a.m. Post-Baccalaureate Degrees were awarded following an address by William W. Scranton, former governor of Pennsylvania. The afternoon presentation of undergraduate diplomas began with the procession of degree candidates and faculty.

Graduating senior, Don Goldstein gave the invocation followed by greetings from the President of the University, Steven Muller. After a short address by Dr. James Walker, three members of the Class of 1975 rose to make their remarks to their classmates, friends, parents, and professors. Diplomas were presented by Deans Suskind and Owen. Following the presentation of diplomas the closing remarks were delivered by the Senior Class President, Seth Feltheimer.
