Orientation

Welcome Class of 2008!

President Brody, along with JHU faculty and staff, officially welcomes the class of 2004 during orientation activities.

Thanks to a dedicated orientation staff, the incoming class of 2004 had an easy transition to college life. From the icebreakers of Playfair to the hilarity of comedian and alumni Dan Adhoot, orientaion week was a great success and was a fantastic experience for all participants.

The new students had innumerable opportunities to meet fellow classmates during orientation week. Strong bonds were already forged between the class during these first few days as they learned to trust and appreciate each other throughout orientation.

Senior Week

"One...two...snap!"
Jessica Yeatermeyer, Divya Prasad, Usha Saldanha, Laura Sappington, Claire Kim, Priya Velu, Nichole Laskowski, and Elizabeth Martin strike a silly pose at the senior class dinner.

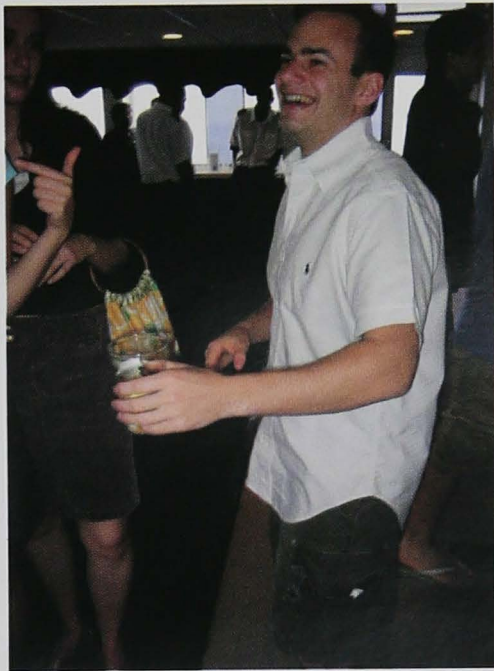

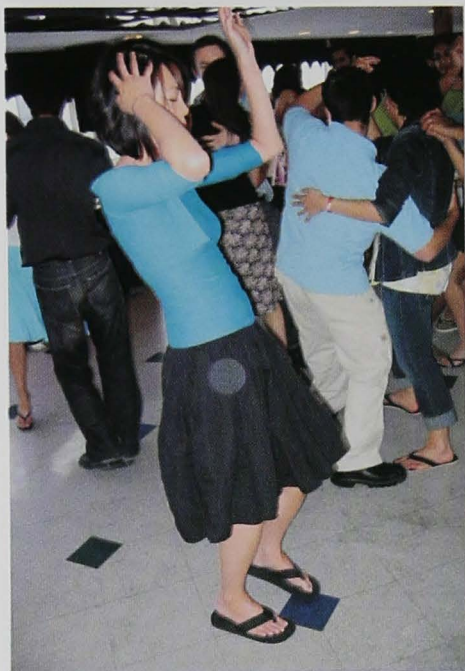

Dan Hughes and Dave Marvin discuss politics and the coolness of being a senior during the senior cruise.

Just in case their post-graduation jobs fall through, Andrew Pile, Brian Sloane, Lenny Kravetz, and Irun Bhan could be on the next J. Crew cover, right girls?

Graduation Day

May 26, 2005

Guest Speaker Al Gore and Dean Dorothy Sheppard look on at the graduating class in admiration and joy at their accomplishments. Below: The Class of 2005 finally reaps their reward of years of toil and hard work as the Commencement Ceremony begins.

Friendship easily transforms into sisterhood and brotherhood in the 4 years students spend at Johns Hopkins University.
Saying goodbye is undeniably bittersweet.

Though the graduating class of 2005 ends this chapter of their life as they pass through the doors of Johns Hopkins University, they will forever be remembered and always apart of the JHU community.

Commencement 2005

As Johns Hopkins University proudly bids farewell to yet another prosperous class, the graduates conclude their 4 year long journey only to embark on a much grander and formidable one. From engineers to journalists to pre-professionals and everything in between, the class of 2005 graciously exits the JHU community with such a tremendous amount to offer to the world.

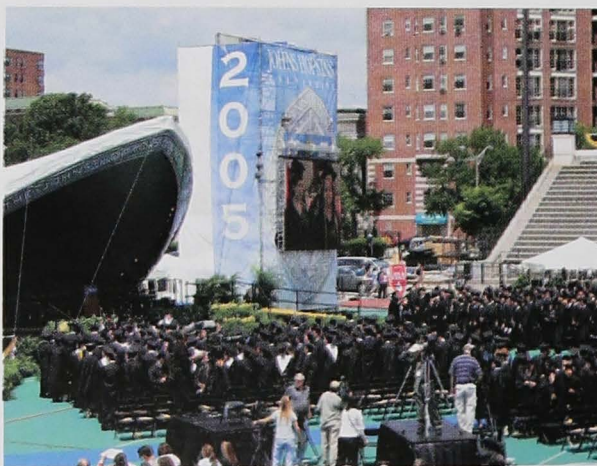

Honored guest former Vice President Al Gore offered his words of wisdom to the graduating class of 2005. Along with the pride and support of Johns Hopkins staff and faculty, the graduates are finally able to commemorate their incredible achievements as students and individuals.

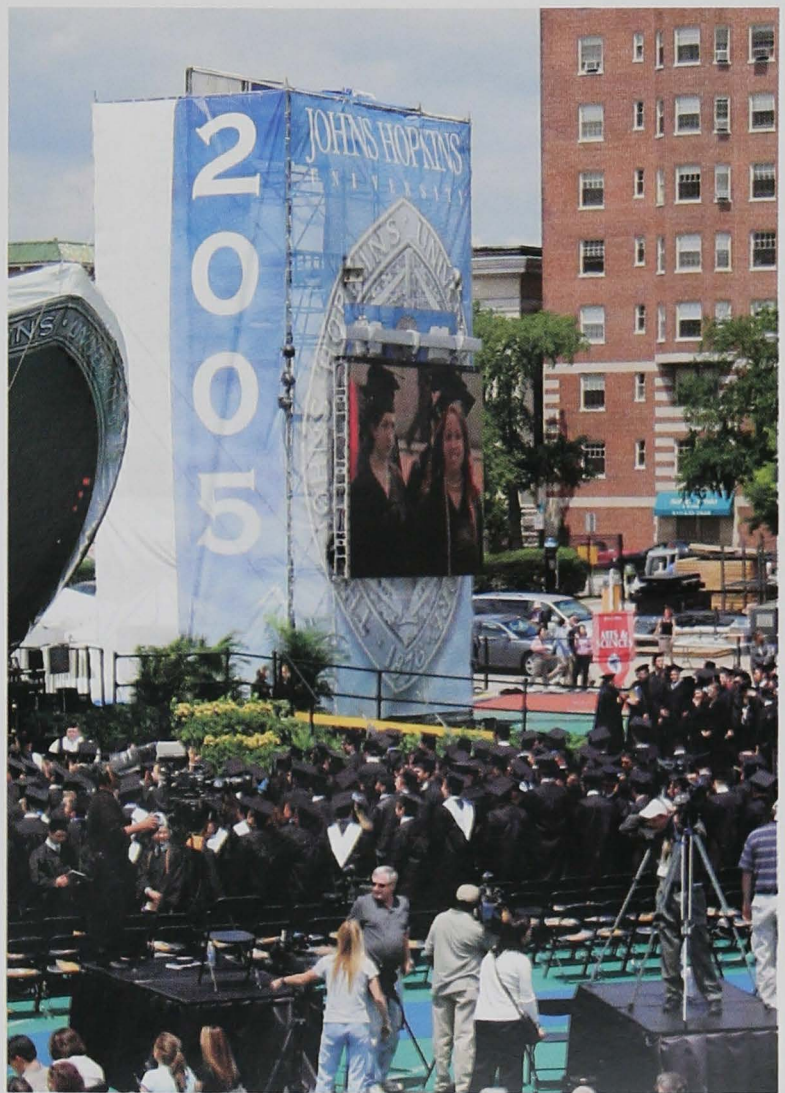

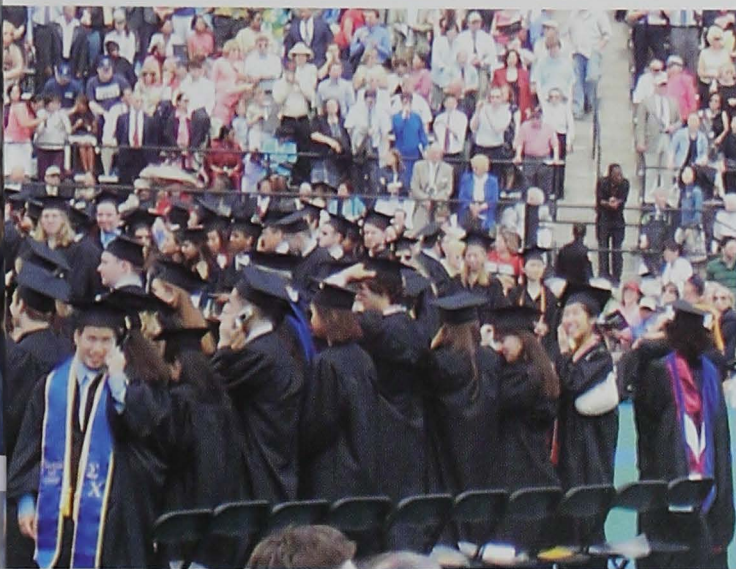

The moment parents and family have waited so long to witness finally arrived as each student was called across the stage...beginning as student and ending as graduate. Despite some of the witty displays of the graduates, their true sentiments of appreciation and gratitude towards family and loved ones were clear. It was certainly an experience for all to cherish and remember.

Maturation and growth is inevitably a beneficial result of the undergraduate experience at Johns Hopkins University. However, the graduates prove that a sense of humor and a little bit of fun is not lost in the years of dedicated study and work.

Amidst the array of attractions, all were easily distracted by the enticing variety of foods found at Spring Fair. No one could resist all of those mouth-watering options!

Fraternities

Alpha Delta Phi Alpha Epsilon Pi Beta Theta Pi Lambda Phi Epsilon Phi
Gamma Delta Phi Kappa Psi Pi Kappa Alpha Sigma Alpha Epsilon Sigma
Alpha Mu Sigma Chi Sigma Phi Epsilon

Fraternities were originally founded to provide a community where young men could become part of a support network and establish friendships with other men sharing similar experiences. Brotherhood is one way to enhance the college experience and the friendships that are made can last a lifetime. At Hopkins, the fraternity experience extends beyond the stereotypical frat life and is built upon academics, brotherhood, community service and social life. Greek life at JHU has a minimum GPA requirement that must be met by each fraternity to remain an active member of a chapter; each year one chapter is awarded a plaque for the highest GPA. Another major principle of every fraternity is giving back to the Hopkins and Baltimore communities. Whether through meals on wheels, tutoring at local elementary schools, running blood drives, or lighting up the Charles Village area by providing light bulbs.

Top: If you were in the mood for live music, the Phi Psi basement always provided a place to listen and jam with your favorite local Hopkins band.

The brothers of Alpha Epsilon Pi pose for one final picture at the final chapter meeting. The graduating seniors were Jesse Fulton, Arie Belok, Aron Davidowitz, David Shahmoon, Jared Covit, Marcus Koblitz, Zack Gurard-Levin, Conor Steuer, Phil Krapchev, Justin Caplan, Saul Garlick, and Ilya Bourman. This chapter was also awarded the highest GPA award for 2005.

Pike brothers Eric Hummel, James Clark, Shorat Anhybedervyev, and Sammy Hahn wait for their dates to get out of the bathroom at their spring formal.

Surrounding residents, each fraternity has touched the lives of many people and these events are usually some of the most memorable experiences as a brother. Finally, the most obvious benefit of joining a fraternity, is the social life, and the Hopkins fraternities know how to throw a party, and every student looks forward to their favorite one.

Sororities

Sorority life at Hopkins is not just pillow fights and gossip. The young women involved in these organizations are active leaders on campus and philanthropists in the community. From Powderpuff football to beauty pageants, lemonade stands and dance teams, sororities are an important part of the Hopkins community.

A few of the sororities here at JHU include the ones pictured, AlphaPhi, PhiMu, and Theta.

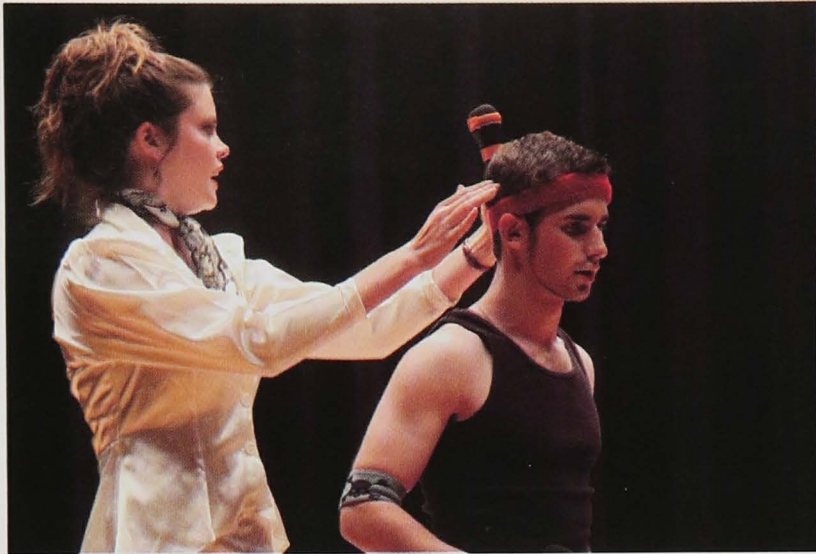

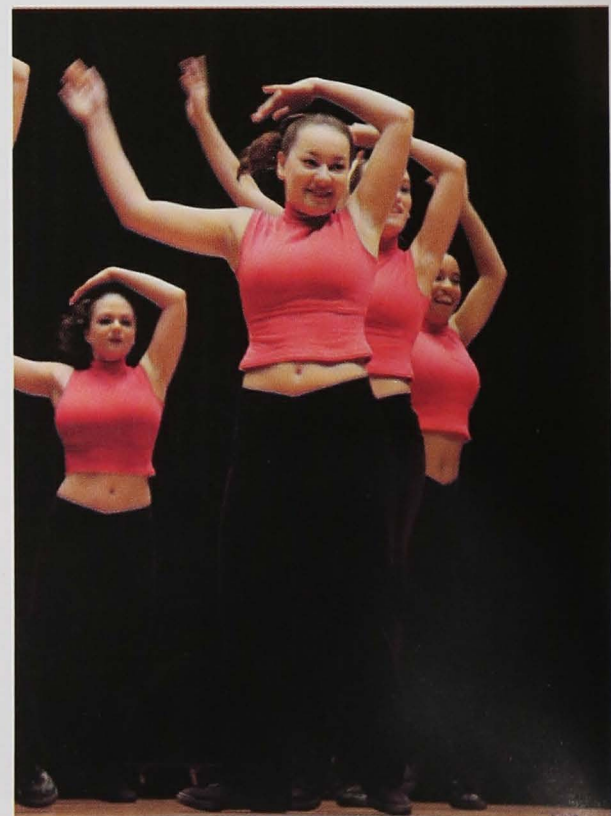

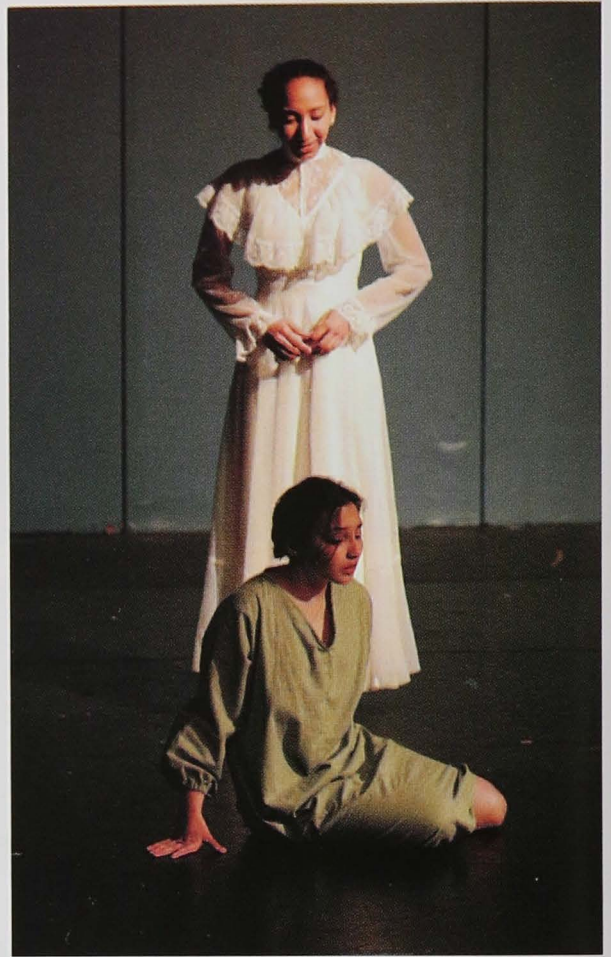

The diversity of sorority choices on campus is large, yet a commonality among them all is what they stand for. There is so much more to these organizations than formals and greek letters. The dedicated members of all the Hopkins sororities make it a priority to touch the community in so many ways through their service and aid. In the meanwhile, the members learn what "sisterhood" truly means as they develop lifelong friendships and connections to be cherished years after they say goodbye to Johns Hopkins University.

Performing Arts Groups

The performing arts represented by JHU students range in variety including theater, sketch comedy, dance, singing, and many more. Such groups allow for the artistic side of students to be expressed during those breaks in between hours of studious working!

Many performing arts groups here on campus put on magnificent displays of both natural skill and talent. Dance groups such as JOSH and the Ladybirds are a few of the numerous clubs that epitomize the blending of hard work, dedication, and talent.

Musical Talent at Hopkins

The vocal arrangements of the ever talented musical groups at Hopkins never cease to amaze the audiences. From comedic musicians to gospel singers the variety of performers is endless!

A Cappella

A Cappella is a very large part of the musical groups on the Johns Hopkins campus. Each group puts on a variety of shows throughout the school year all starting out at the Orientation "O-Show" which showcases each of the groups in order to attract new members. The top group is the All Nighters, the middle is the Octopodes, and the bottom group is the Sirens.

The Johns Hopkins Men's and Women's varsity crew teams enjoyed strong seasons in 2004-2005. The fall season, characterized by 5 km races, was highlighted by a few key regattas. In October, the Women's Varsity 4+ and Men's Varsity 8+ competed at the Head of the Charles Regatta in Boston, the largest regatta in the world. The crews put on strong showings despite the frigid temperatures and unavoidable collisions. The next week, the team traveled to Philadelphia to compete at the Head of the Schuylkill regatta. The Women's Novice 4+ raced to 3rd place of 16, while the Men's Varsity 8+ finished 15th out of 37 despite running into problems on the course. The Men's team peaked in the last race of the fall season at the Head of the Occoquan in Virginia. The Varsity 8+ won the silver medal, as did the Varsity Heavyweight Double. Hopkins also won the gold and bronze in the Men's Varsity Single (John Cutright) and Novice Single (Teddy Drivas) respectively, while the Men's Novice 8+ came in 5th of 19.

□ The winter months are always the most grueling for rowers as they hit the rowing machines and weight room in preparation for the upcoming spring sprint season. Hopkins participated in one indoor regatta, where competitors race each other to 2000m on rowing machines. Hopkins dominated the competition, taking 1st and 3rd in the Men's Heavyweight division (Pete Sargent and Wesley Fredericks), 1st and 2nd in the Men's Lightweight division (Matthew Hart and Lukasz Bugaj), 2nd in the Women's Lightweight division (Laura DeMare), as well as 2nd and 3rd in the coxswain division (Alfred See and Clifford Lok).

□ The spring season, where races are 2000m sprints, was marred by bad weather and bad luck. Despite this, the Men's and Women's crews brought the Casperson Cup back to Hopkins after defeating Washington College and St. John's College in the second regatta of the season. A few weeks later, the Men also won the Atlantic Collegiate League Sprints overall team trophy, beating out perennial powerhouses RIT and Ithaca College. This regatta featured 1st place finishes by Hopkins' Men's and Women's Varsity Pairs, the Men's Varsity Heavyweight 4+, and the Women's Novice 4+. The following week, the team took overall first place again in the Mother-Son regatta at Washington College, beating out Mary Washington University and Washington College. Hopkins boats won gold in the Women's Varsity 4+, the Women's Novice 8+, the Women's Novice 4+, the Men's Novice 4+, the Men's Novice 8+, and the Men's Varsity 8+. The season ended with two championship regattas. The first, the Mid-Atlantic Collegiate Championships, featured a 1st place finish by the Men's Varsity Pair and a 2nd place finish by the Men's Novice 8+. The following week at Dad Vail's, the final and most important regatta of the entire year, both of these boats advanced from heats to semi-finals, but barely missed qualifying for the grand finals in their respective events.

□ At the end of the season, the crew team was sad to see its seniors leave. However, both the men's and women's teams are relatively young – only one rising senior returns to the Men's team, while only four return to the Women's. All are excited for what should be an extremely successful next couple of years.

Field Hockey

Preparing for the Future

The Hopkins Field Hockey team had high expectations this year, hoping to hold on to their 2003 Centennial Conference Champion title. With the leadership of seniors Chrissie Terpeluk and Anna Rehwinkel, co-captains, and Jen Rolston, and Kate Rydstrom, the team finished 3-7 in the conference and 6-12 overall. The season ended with a 1-0 loss to Ursinus. Next year's team has hopes to fare even better under the leadership and experience of players such as junior Meighan Roose, who was named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District team for the District II Women's At-Large Division and earned a spot on the second team.

Johns Hopkins posted a 9-2 record in the 2004 season led by senior co-captains Matt Campbell, Adam Cook, and Matt Weeks

The Johns Hopkins Football team completed the 2004 season with a 9-2 record. The team won a share of the conference title and for the third straight year made the ECAC playoffs. The Jays defeated Waynesburg to win the ECAC Southeast title. The team was lead by tri-captains Adam Cook, Matt Campbell and Matt Weeks. The offensive side of the ball was lead by senior offensive lineman Mike Speer, Bill Carpluk and 2 time All- American Matt Weeks, who paved the way for Hopkins all-time leading rusher Adam Cook.

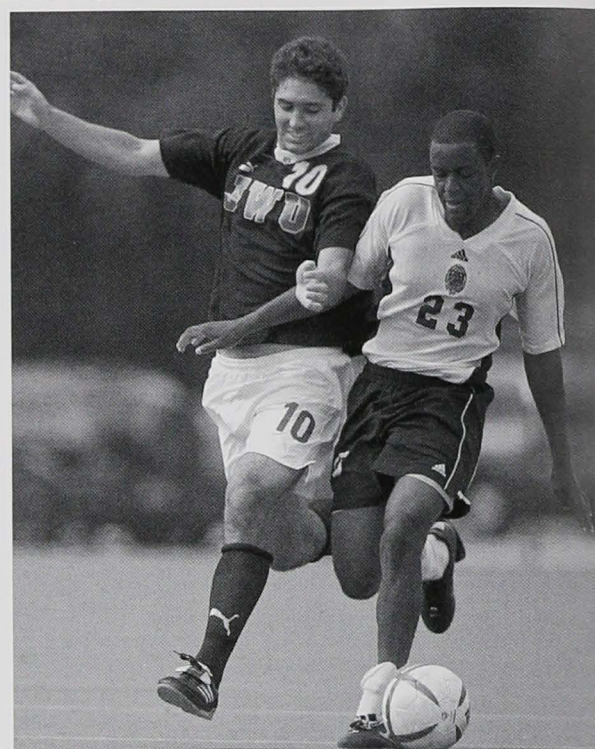

Hopkins' talented offense also featured senior Brian Wolcott, who is among the top three receivers in JHU's football history and senior fullback Nate Readal, who was only tackled once in his career for loss. Offensive weapon and jack-of-all-trades Jon Zimmer, who redefined the position of tight end, will leave a hole that needs to be filled this upcoming season. The powerful and point stingy defense was led by 2 time All-American defensive back Matt Campbell. Senior tackling machines Chris Wegman and Travis Windle, who both played at the linebacker position, anchored a defense that ranked among the top in the nation in both rushing defense and scoring defense. A school record of 15 players we named to the All-Centennial Football Team and ten of those will be returning to play in the 2005 season. Even with the loss of so many great seniors the Jays have a talented returning core that will lead the team to another successful season. Pride and Poise.

Men's Soccer

DEFENSE! DEFENSE!

The 2005 season was nothing out of the ordinary for the Blue Jays men's soccer team, as they continued to impress the league while breaking many of the school's records. Under coach Matt Smith, Hopkins climbed to a 17-1-2 record and advanced to the third round of the NCAA Tournament. This year's Blue Jays will now be remembered as the team with the highest winning percentage in school history (.900), the least number of losses, the longest winning streak of nineteen games, an unbeaten streak of twenty-two games, and started off the year with a program best 16-0 record. That success was built upon defense, and the Blue Jays defense was impeccable. In nineteen games, the Blue Jays only allowed six goals, winning eight 1-0 decisions and never allowed more than one goal in any single contest. The Blue Jays made their defensive presence known finishing second in the nation in goals against average with a 0.30 average which was good for the eighth best all-time GAA ever in NCAA Division III. This year's club also shutout opposing teams fourteen times which tied the school record, and their shutout percentage of 0.70 was third best in the nation and second best ever in school history.

Senior Chris Brown easily regains possession for the Blue Jays.

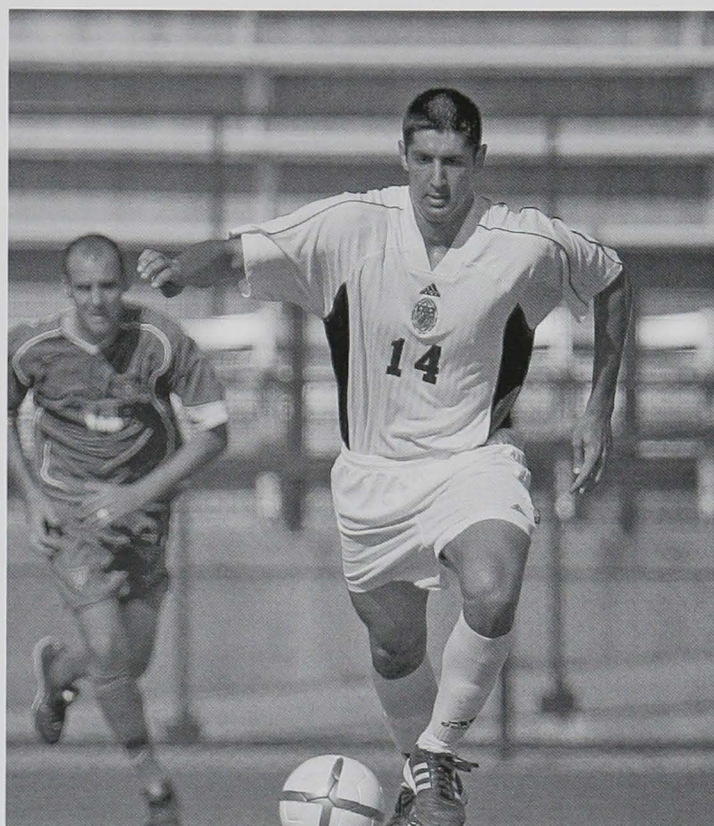

The 2004 Blue Jays will always be remembered after breaking many school and conference records

The leader of the great Blue Jay defense was senior first-team All-American Gary Kane, Jr. Kane started every game and only allowed five goals in over 1800 minutes giving him a solid 0.25 goals against average which broke both the Hopkins and conference records. In addition, his GAA was second in the nation and fourth all-time for any goalkeeper in the NCAA Division III in a single season. Senior Chris Brown along with junior Jeff Grosser provided Kane a solid defensive line and they were both named to the first-team All-Centennial Conference team and represented the team on the first-team NSCAA All-Region in the Mid-Atlantic. Hopkins ended their great run ranked 11th in the national poll.

After a season opening loss, the Lady Blue Jays' soccer team under head coach Leo Weil, rebounded quite nicely and found themselves in the playoffs for the eighth consecutive season. The 2004 team marched towards the final games of both the Centennial Conference Championships as well as the ECAC South Tournament and finished the year with the second most number of wins in school history as they built a 16-5-1 record. Even though the Blue Jays were unable to capture either title, the season was a great success both for the team, and for many individuals, as several women were awarded honors. Sophomore Lindsey Kimura was named a First Team All-Mid-Atlantic selection for her excellent defensive work. Additionally, she was recognized for her academic record and was named to the Second Team of CoSIDA's District II Academic All-American team. Kimura was part of a great team defense that completed ten shutouts and were able to only allow two or less goals in all but four of their games. Kathleen Turley was named to the second team of the NSCAA All-Mid-Atlantic team as a midfielder as well as to the First Team All-Centennial team. Meg McIntosh and Jessi McKenzie were both named to the Centennial Conference's Second Team, as McIntosh lead the Blue Jays in goals and points (10 and 22 respectively), and McKenzie finished the year with 19, a very respectable number for a defender. Finally, Jenn Sciarpetti was awarded an honorable mention as a defender.

After a Centennial Conference final appearance last year followed by losing over half of the team's offense, the Hopkins volleyball team entered the year with many question marks. However, the upperclassmen provided the leadership and experience the underclassmen needed to form a team that would find its way back to their second consecutive Centennial Conference final appearance. This year's squad worked their way towards an 18-10 record, which included an amazing eleven game winning streak that began with three Centennial Conference shutout victories. After winning their final ten regular season matches, the Blue Jays entered the Centennial Conference tournament as the number three seed. The Jays won the deciding fifth game over Franklin and Marshall and faced Gettysburg in the finals. Despite the loss, it was the third time in five years that Hopkins has finished in second place in the conference.

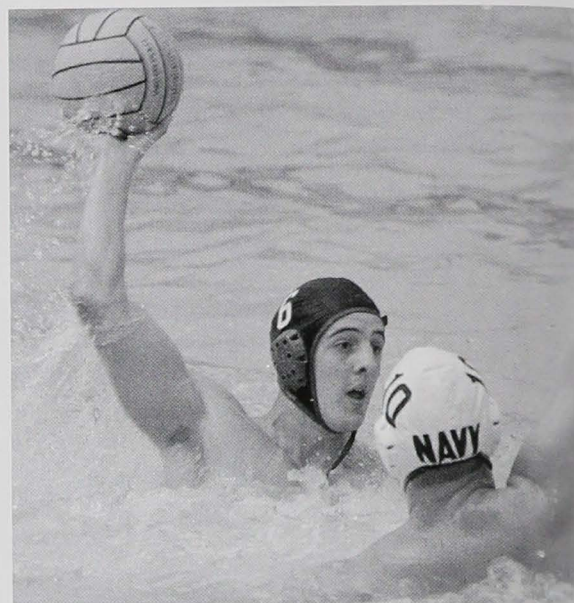

The individual awards were also plentiful for this year's team, even though most of the team comprised of underclassmen. The lone senior, Betsy Baydala lead the team and was named to the All-Centennial Conference First team for the third time. Baydala led the team in hitting percentage (.245), assists (674), and service aces (46). Baydala also set a few Hopkins records during her four year tenure including career assists (3502) and digs (1722). Her digs record was also the highest number of digs ever in the Centennial Conference. In addition to Baydala's success, junior Jen Hajj earned an Honorable Mention All-Centennial Conference honor as a middle hitter. Hajj led the team in blocks with 52. Sophomore Lizzie Kay also was awarded an honorable mention. Kay led the Conference in digs with 640 and broke the Hopkins record for single-season digs, which was previously set by Kay during her freshman year.

Water Polo

Scoring in the water with ease

The Blue Jays Water Polo team completed the 2004 season at number three in the Division III National Collegiate Top 10 Poll and at number eight in the CWPA Top 10 Poll. They finished the season with an 18-16 overall record and two fifth place finishes at both the Southern Championship and the ECAC Championship. Despite those fifth place spots, the Blue Jays won the Division III Eastern Championship with a 4-0 record, beating Penn State Behrend, Connecticut College, Washington and Jefferson, and MIT. This year's team was under the leadership of senior Brian Mead. Mead was named the 2004 Division III Player of the Year and is the all time leading scorer in Johns Hopkins history. In this year alone, Mead scored 100 goals, the last goal coming in the final game of the season. In addition, junior James Singleton was named to the second All-American team and freshman Mitch Williams was awarded an honorable mention.

The 2004-2005 Johns Hopkins Men's Basketball team finished the season with a 14-11 record, their final loss coming against Haverford in the first round of the Centennial Conference playoffs. Despite trimming an eleven point halftime deficit to only five, the Blue Jays were overpowered by Haverford 71-53. The season was marked by some individual honors, as senior and two time co-captain Eric Toback was selected to the men's basketball All-Centennial Conference First Team. Toback lead the Blue Jays in minutes played per game with an average of 29.2 and averaged 14.6 points per game which also was tops on Hopkins and good for eleventh overall in the Centennial Conference. Toback also lead the Blue Jays in blocks (30), three-pointer shots (59), and finished second many other statistical categories including free throw percentage (30-37, 0.811), rebounds (6.8 per game), assists (50), and steals (17).

□ The 2004-05 Women's Basketball Team finished a successful season in the Centennial League Playoffs, with a final record of 21-5. The season highlight fell on February 8th, as Hopkins defeated rival McDaniel 81-80 in overtime. This was the first time in four years that the Lady Jays secured a victory on McDaniel's home court. In addition to the team's success, co-captains Ashanna Randall and Ashley Felix had milestone years. Randall was the 11th female in Blue Jay history to pass the 1,000 point mark in a win over Franklin and Marshall on February 22. She ended her career with 1,010 points. On January 17th in a win over Carnegie Mellon, Felix had seven steals to break Hopkin's record for career steals. She completed her senior year with 348 steals and also captured the single game and season records. Although losing three starting seniors, Randall, Felix, and Burkholder, the future looks bright for the Lady Jays, as long as the death liger patrols the locker room and continues to bring good luck.

In Kirk Salvo's last season as coach of the Hopkins Wrestling team, he led the Blue Jays to a fifth place finish at the 2005 Centennial Conference Championships held at Muhlenberg. Three particular seniors performed particularly well at the Conference Championships. Joe Selba placed fourth in the 165 pound weight class after losing the third place match in overtime 4-2. Tony Dambro reached the finals of the 197 pound weight class however lost 8-4 to finish in second place. Finally, Dave Garavilla finished fourth place in his weight class of 285 pounds. In addition to their performance at the Centennial Conference Championships, Tony Dambro and Jimmy Van Daniker were named to the 2005 NCAA Division III Wrestling Coaches Association Scholar All-American Team for their combined success in athletics as well as academics. Van Daniker finished in third place in his 125-pound weight class at this Conference Championships.

Blue Jays Fly Around the Bases

Following a season where the Blue Jays finished with a school record 40 wins and enjoyed a first seed ranking for most of the season, the 2005 Blue Jays faced a difficult act to follow. After dropping the season opener to Ripon, the Blue Jays went on to finish the season at 32-9 securing second place in the Centennial Conference. The 2005 season was full of accomplishments despite missing the NCAA postseason for the first time since 2000. In his 26th year with the Blue Jays, Coach Bob Babb celebrated his 700th career victory and coached the Blue Jays to a .780 winning percentage, continuing their streak of .700 or higher seasons to six. Additionally six Blue Jays were selected to the All-Centennial Conference team.

Senior Dave Montegari and juniors Eric Nigro and Gary Rosenberg were named to the first team; senior Paul Long and sophomore Ian Christie were named to the second team, and senior Jason Hochfelder was named as an honorable mention. Hochfelder also earned Academic All-District first team honors and senior Mike Durgala was named to the second team. The class of 2005 definitely left an indelible mark within the Hopkins community after posting a combined 136-27 record, winning three Centennial Conference titles, and three appearances in the NCAA tournament.

After three years of near misses, the 2005 Blue Jays finished out a perfect season with a nail-biting performance at the Final Four which concluded when the Blue Jays brought home the program's eighth NCAA National Championship at Lincoln Financial Field in Philadelphia and 43rd overall national championship. After a 9-8 overtime victory against Virginia in the semi-finals, the Blue Jays came back and beat Duke in the NCAA final game with a victory of the same score. The undefeated season by the 2005 Blue Jays was only the third time that the Blue Jays have accomplished that feat since 1971, when the NCAA Tournament made its debut and was the ninth perfect season by a Blue Jays team since its formation in 1883.

The Blue Jays set a school record for 15 wins when they beat Virginia in the semifinals and then reset that record at 16 when they beat Duke in the final. Hopkins became only the second team to win the NCAA Championship after completing a perfect season since 1971 and just the third team to finish with a 16-0 record and win the NCAA Championship title.

Coach Dave Pietramala finally completed the task he has set out to accomplish since his first year as head coach. He is tied as the third-fastest coach to reach 60 wins in JHU history. Pietramala now owns an overall 63-10 record at Hopkins (.863). Many Blue Jays were awarded individual honors as well. Midfielder Kyle Harrison, who led the team in goals (24), assists (20), points (44), and ground balls (67) was presented with the 2005 Tewaaraton Trophy as the country's top player, earned First Team STX/USILA All-America honors, was named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team, and was also chosen to represent the country at the 2006 International Lacrosse Federation World Championship.

Five seniors were selected in the Major League Lacrosse draft; Kyle Harrison, Benson Erwin, Kyle Barrie, Tom Garvey, and Matt Rewkowski. Chris Watson and Peter LeSueur were both named to the ESPN The Magazine District II Academic All-America At-Large Team. Finally, the 2005 Blue Jays capped their season on an unfamiliar field, the White House Lawn, where the National Champions were congratulated by President George W. Bush.

2005 National Champions!

After going undefeated, the Men's Lacrosse team gave everyone an unforgettable season as they ended a perfect year with a 9-8 championship game win against Duke.

Excitement and pride was abundant throughout the Hopkins community as the Men's Lacrosse team remained #1 in 2005, bringing home the championship trophy.

Fighting towards victory

2005 was only the seventh season where the Johns Hopkins women's lacrosse team competed at the Division I level, yet they were consistently ranked in the top twelve throughout the year in the company of some of the best women's lacrosse programs in the country. Under the leadership of head coach Janine Tucker and senior co-captains Lacey-Leigh Hentz and Anna Crisafulli, the squad comprised of mostly underclassmen completed a very accomplished season with a record of 11-6 and earning its second straight NCAA tournament berth. One of this year's highlights was the major upset of sixth-seeded Georgetown with their first shutout win in six years. At the NCAA tournament opening game, Hopkins came out strong and took possession of the early lead against the defending champions. The game came down to the wire, but Virginia's playoff experience was the edge in this 10-8 Hopkins loss. The season ended by proving to the other teams that Hopkins can compete with anyone.

Kay and Hentz were both named All-Americans by Inside Lacrosse, womenslacrosse.com, and IWLCA/US Lacrosse, and received first-team honors to the All-ALC Team and the IWLCA/US Lacrosse All-South Regional Team. Ashley Schwarzmann was awarded a place on the second team of the All-ALC and Stamper was a third-team Inside Lacrosse All-American and womenslacrosse.com All-Rookie pick. Three seniors, Crisafulli, Hentz, and Erin Riordan, were all given a spot on the South roster in the IWLCA North-South senior game. Nine of the 2005 Lady Jays were named to the IWLCA National Honor Roll and include: Crisafulli, Hentz, Sandra Lebo, Riordan, Natalie Cooper, Kate Lipka, Kelley Putnam, Schwarzmann, and Meagan Voight.

The 2005 season was supposed to be a rebuilding year for Johns Hopkins Men's Tennis team. When the season began, the Blue Jays met a completely new coaching staff, a longer and harder schedule, and a team that featured four freshmen starters. Far from simply rebuilding, the team thrived on the combination of the team's new energy and senior co-captain Justin Belisario's leadership and experience. After training in Miami during spring break, they posted a 13-2 overall record and went 8-0 in our conference, and captured the first ever Centennial Conference Championship in JHU Men's Tennis history. The highlight of the season was defeating Washington College, a team that had gone undefeated in the conference for twenty years. And despite catapulting in the rankings to tenth in the Atlantic South region, the NCAA did not award a berth in the Regional tournament to the Blue Jays. The team is looking forward to reaching that milestone in 2006. Freshman Chanont Vasoontara earned a slew of accomplishments by winning the Conference Singles Championship and teaming with Freshman Matthew Naftilan to reach the finals in the Conference Doubles Championship. Vasoontara was the sole Hopkins player to be ranked individually, earning a 21st-place slot in the singles regional rankings.

The 2005 women's tennis team also made significant progress this season, finishing 13-3 and third place overall in the Centennial Conference after a 2004 performance of only 7-4. Senior Michelle Liang was a true leader on the team and posted a 9-7 individual overall record as the first and second singles spots, and was undefeated in the second singles position. Liang was awarded Hopkins' only women's all-conference honor. Several other players had accomplished seasons as well. Becky Busch went 15-1 overall, dominating the third spot with an 11-0 record. Tanya Gulnik finished with a 16-3 singles record, Mary Gorski and Vandna Jerath finished 11-3 and 11-4 respectively, and Jill Seigman was undefeated with a record of 7-0 in the fifth and sixth singles spot.

At the Centennial Conference Championships, Liang and Busch won two matches, but lost in the semi-final match 8-1. The only other Hopkins doubles team to compete were Gulnik and Seidman however they were eliminated in the quarterfinals. In the singles championships, Gulnik had the most success as she advanced to the quarterfinals. The new life in both the men's and women's team will hopefully become a trend for Hopkins Tennis.

Suraj,

Congratulations! We are so very, very proud of you - even more so because you were on the Dean's list several times. Well done Sweetheart. Now you will finally be doing what you have wanted to do since you were a little boy...working in the family business.

Do we have words of advice for you? Sure, lots, but with the help from a few wise men and women.

"You can finish school and even make it easy but you can never finish your education, and it's seldom easy."

-Zig Ziglar

"You can have anything you want, if you want it badly enough. You can be anything you want to be, do anything you set out to accomplish if you hold to that desire with singleness of purpose."

-Abraham Lincoln.

"Success is not measured by what you accomplish but by the opposition you have encountered, and the courage with which you have maintained the struggle against overwhelming odds."

-Orison Swett Marden

"Your living is determined not so much by what life brings to you as by the attitude you bring to life; not so much by what happens to you as by the way your mind looks at what happens."

-Kahlil Gibran

"The road to wisdom?

It's plain and simple to express

Err

and err

and err again

but less

and less

and less."

-Piet Hein

"Write it down. Written goals have a way of transforming wishes into wants; can't's into cans; dreams into plans; and plans into reality. Don't just think it - ink it!"

-Author Unknown

"Parents can only give good advice or put them on the right paths, but the final forming of a person's character lies in their own hands."

-Anne Frank

So, dearest Son, we wish you lots of love and success in the years to come. We know you will do a fantastic job.

God bless,

Mom and Dad

Suraj,

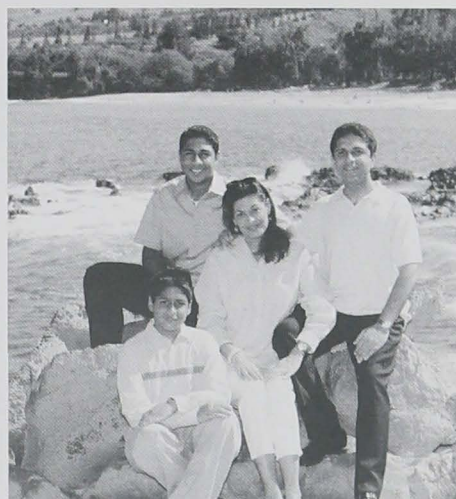

Dude, I can't believe that you're actually going to graduate from college and become a working man. That's insane!! Although, usually when people graduate from college they have been used to the 5 day work week for quite some time, but not you...You glided through your three day week (SLACKER). Way to beat the system buddy, I am finally proud to call you my brother! Unfortunately, you cannot party until 6 in the morning every night now because you are about to become a boring real estate guy. You better start stocking up on your sweater vests because I hear it gets cold in that office! Don't fret my dear brother...you can live vicariously through me while I go through my years of teenage angst and live out all my rockstar fantasies...(ok here comes the serious stuff so be prepared).

Bro, from the time I was born you have always been there for me and yadda yadda yadda you're 22, I'm 16. Tear, Joy...

We have been through the good and we have definitely been through the bad, but in each situation I'm glad I had someone like you there with me...(can you say hallmark baby??!)

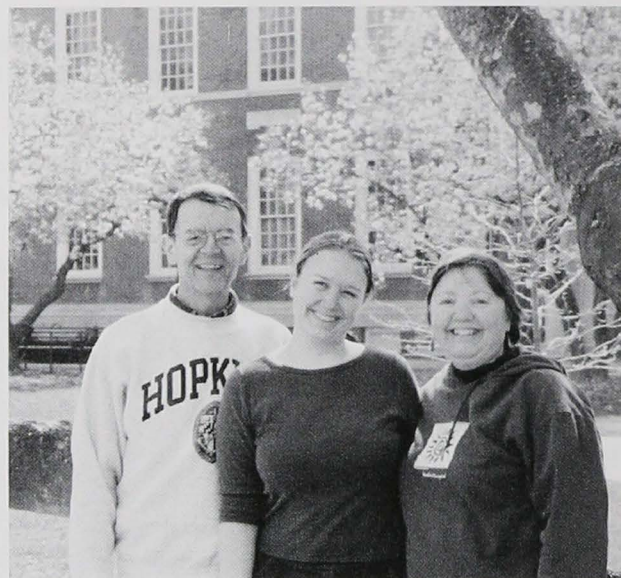

Love you bro,

Mohnish

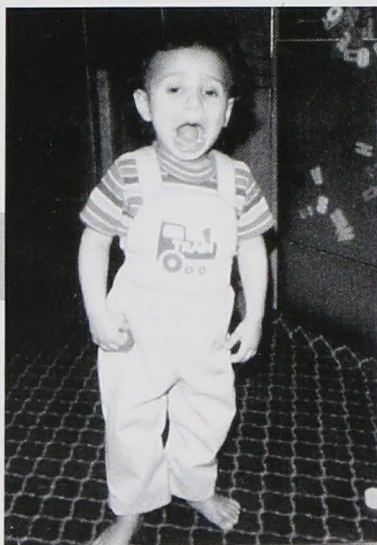

*Congratulations
Sara!

Dear Bug,
Congratulations! We are very proud of you and

SOUVIK CONGRATULATIONS !

"To love. To be loved. To never forget your own insignificance. To never get used to the unspeakable violence and vulgar display of life around you. To seek joy in the saddest of places. To pursue beauty to its lair. To never simplify what is complicated or complicate what is simple. To respect strength, never power."

-Arundhati Roy

We Love You and are very proud of you.
Mom, Dad, and Sohini

Congratulations, Dallas!

Congratulations, Avi.
You are one rich in family, friends, and good health.
"We love you forever. We like you for always."
We are so proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Best wishes also to Amar, Bobby, Dave, Dave, Dave, and Jon.
